

Testimonials

We've been working with Sopchy for several months now. The goal of our first project was to evaluate our website in terms of UX, aiming to improve the visibility of beauty products and increase conversions in the shop.

What pleasantly surprised us was the agency's comprehensive approach to the project - referencing literature to justify the layout of product cards, presenting trends, and showing a strong willingness to develop solutions together.

What's more, we know that the task is in the hands of true experts, which builds trust and encourages us to continue the collaboration in the next stages.

We're very grateful to Jarek for his expertise and flexibility, and to Kasia for coordinating the project and sharing valuable insights.
